

Eberhard Jüngel

Zu Werk und Wirkung Edited by Julian Zeyher-Quattlender and Volker Henning Drecoll

Eberhard Jüngel (1934-2021) has had a greater impact on science and the church than almost any other systematic theologian, namely through his theology. Julian Zeyher-Quattlender and Volker Henning Drecoll focus on his core concerns and shed light on aspects of his thought and impact that have received less attention to date.

Volker Henning Drecoll Born in 1968; studied theology in Münster; 1996 doctorate; 1998 habilitation; Professor of Church History in Tübingen, with a focus on the Early Church; Ephorus of Evangelisches Stift Tübingen.
