Die Zuordnung von Gesetzesverletzungen zu Sach- und Verfahrensrüge in der strafprozessualen Revision

[The Classification of Violations of the Law as Substantive and Procedural Reprimands in an Appeal in Criminal Proceedings.]

Published in German.

In spite of its significance for appellate law in criminal proceedings, until now no one has succeeded in giving a satisfactory answer to the question of the boundaries between the scope of substantive and procedural reprimands. Mohamad El-Ghazi attempts to make a contribution to the dogmatic classification of the categories of reprimands by showing the weaknesses of the previous approach and providing a solution which he develops on the basis of the divergent natures of substantive and procedural reprimands.
