

International Law and the Rule of Law under Extreme Conditions

An Economic Perspective. Contributions to the XIVth Travemünde Symposium on the Economic Analysis of Law (March 27–29, 2014)
Ed. by Thomas Eger, Stefan Oeter, and Stefan Voigt

[Völkerrecht und Rechtsstaatlichkeit unter extremen Bedingungen. Ökonomische Perspektiven. Beiträge zum XIV. Travemünder Symposium zur ökonomischen Analyse des Rechts (27.-29. März 2014).]

Published in English.

The economic analysis of international law is a field of research which is still very new but which for several years has been growing and become extremely promising. For this reason the organizers of the XIVth Travemünde Symposium on the economic analysis of law decided for the second time to bring together economists and jurists from Europe and non-European countries in order to discuss some of those problems of international law which are still unsolved. The articles resulting from this, published in this volume, discuss how natural disasters, civil wars or economic collapses affect international law and how international law deals with these extreme conditions.

Survey of contents

Eli Salzberger: Introduction into the topic

Part I: Natural Catastrophes

Hans-Joachim Heintze: Sovereignty and the Protection of Persons in the Event of Desasters – Comment by Wolfgang Weigel – Peter Lewisch: International Catastrophes – an Obligation to Cooperate? – Comments by Deborah Shmueli and Matthias Lemke – Hans-Heinrich Trute: How to deal with Transnational Pandemics? – Comment by Andreas Niklisch

Part II: Civil Wars, Wars and other Belligerencies

Thilo Marauhn: Use of Drones – Comment by Amnon Reichman – Heike Krieger: Cyberwar – Comment by Jerg Gutmann – Tim Krieger: How to deal with International Terrorism – Comment by Stefan Oeter – Martina Caroni: Right to Intervene – Responsibility to Protect? – Comment by Gad Barzilai

Part III: Economic Meltdowns

Roland Vaubel: The Euro-Crisis – A Crisis of the Rule of Law? – Comment by Martin Nettesheim – August Reinisch: Rules for an Orderly Insolvency of Nation States – Comment by Hans-Bernd Schäfer

Thomas Eger is a professor of Law and Economics at the University of Hamburg, Faculty of Law, Vice-Dean for Research and International Affairs and director of the Institute of Law and Economics.

Stefan Oeter is a professor of Public Law and International Law and director of the Institute for International Affairs at the University of Hamburg as well as chairman of the Historical Commission of International Society for Military Law and the Laws of War and member of the Permanent Court of Arbitration, Den Haag.

Stefan Voigt is a professor at the University of Hamburg and director of the Institute for Law and Economics at the University of Hamburg, fellow of the CESifo in Munich and connected to the International Centre for Economic Research (ICER) in Turin.

Order now:

https://www.mohrsiebeck.com/en/book/international-law-and-the-rule-of-law-under-extreme-conditions-9783161535673?no_cache=1

order@mohrsiebeck.com

Phone: +49 (0)7071-923-17

Fax: +49 (0)7071-51104

2017. XV, 363 pages.

ISBN 978-3-16-153567-3
sewn paper 104,00 €

ISBN 978-3-16-153568-0
eBook PDF 104,00 €