

Nordic and Germanic Legal Methods

Contributions to a Dialogue between Different Legal Cultures, with a Main Focus on Norway and Germany
Ed. by Ingvill Helland and Sören Koch

[Juristische Methoden im Nordischen und Deutschen Rechtskreis. Beiträge zum Dialog zwischen verschiedenen Rechtskulturen, mit besonderer Berücksichtigung Norwegens und Deutschlands.]

2014. XV, 461 pages.

ISBN 978-3-16-153062-3
sewn paper 104,00 €

Published in English.

To gain a proper understanding of a foreign legal system, a legal scholar cannot rely on written sources alone. He must also familiarise himself with how these are interpreted and applied to hard cases. This is crucial to comparative studies and the harmonisation of law in Europe. However, materials explaining legal methods are often difficult to access for foreign lawyers, as they tend to be written in the national language and build on a series of unspoken preconceptions inherent to the specific legal order. It is therefore the purpose of this book to provide the comparative legal scholar with the tools to overcome some of these initial obstacles and gain a better understanding of how colleagues from different legal systems think about law. The present volume gives an introduction to the legal methods of the countries in the Nordic and Germanic legal families, primarily addressed to foreign readers, thus explaining also those unspoken preconceptions. It further seeks historical and cultural explanations for present-day legal methods, and explores the impact of internationalisation as well as the possibility of a common European legal method.

Survey of contents

I: Translation strategies and historical background Ingrid Simonnæs: Legal comparison as a prerequisite to legal translation. The inherent interrelatedness between legal comparison and legal translation – Jørn Øyrehagen Sunde: The legal cultural dependency of the Norwegian legal method and its future – Dag Michalsen: Structural-historical features in 'the Norwegian legal method' – Hans-Peter Haferkamp: Historical Conditions for the Contemporary Understanding of Legal Method in Germany

II: Legal argumentation in the Scandinavian and Germanic legal families

Ingvill Helland/Sören Koch: Introduction to Norwegian legal method – Sten Schaumburg-Müller: On Danish legal method – Johan Boucht: Introduction to Finnish and Swedish legal method – Ingvill Helland: Introduction to German legal method – Stephan Hinghofer-Szalkay: Twins or estranged cousins? Legal Methodology in Austria vis-à-vis Germany – Rafael Haeckel: An introduction to the application of law in Switzerland – Ingvill Helland/Sören Koch: Norwegian and German legal methods compared: Similarities and differences, their reasons and consequences

III: International influences

Rainer Grote: Internationalisation of the German legal method – Ingvill Helland/Sören Koch: International influences in Norwegian legal argumentation

IV: Theory in practice

Thomas Thiede: Theory in practice – Lessons from Norway – Kai Krüger: Implied terms or default guidelines – a Nordic contract law swamp area

V: Future developments

Thomas Henninger: Legal Culture and Common Principles of European Legal Methods

Ingvill Helland Born 1977; Postdoc at the Faculty of Law at the University of Bergen.

Sören Koch Born 1975; Associate Professor at the Faculty of Law at the University of Bergen.

Order now:

https://www.mohrsiebeck.com/en/book/nordic-and-germanic-legal-methods-9783161530623?no_cache=1

order@mohrsiebeck.com

Phone: +49 (0)7071-923-17

Fax: +49 (0)7071-51104