Prophetenstudien

Kleine Schriften II

[On Prophets and Prophecy. Selected Essays II.]

Published in German.

In this collection of essays, six of which are original contributions, Reinhard Gregor Kratz provides an overview of prophecy and prophets in the Ancient Near East, the Old Testament and in the Dead Sea scrolls (Qumran) as well as articles especially on the books of Isaiah, Hosea and Amos. After an introduction to the problems of exegesis of the prophets, he deals mainly with three fundamental issues using several case studies/examples: the relationship between Ancient Near East and Old Testament prophecy, the distinction between the historical and the literary prophets in the books of the Old Testament as well as the reception of the Old Testament books of the prophets in the Dead Sea scrolls. In this way, Reinhard G. Kratz gives an overall picture of biblical prophetic literature as well as insight into three well-known representatives of this exceptional genre of literature.

Reinhard Gregor Kratz Geboren 1957; Studium der Ev. Theologie und Gräzistik in Frankfurt a.M., Heidelberg und Zürich; seit 1995 Professur für Altes Testament an der Georg-August-Universität Göttingen; seit 1999 Mitglied der Akademie der Wissenschaften zu Göttingen.
