Von Freiheit und Freihandel: Grundzüge einer ordoliberalen Aussenwirtschaftstheorie

[Freedom and Free Trade: A Basic Ordoliberal Theory of Foreign Trade. By Lüder Gerken.]

Published in German.

In view of increasing globalization, today more than ever we are confronted with the question of whether the state is permitted to protect domestic companies from foreign-owned competition or if it should abstain from any form of protection. Lüder Gerken develops a basic ordoliberal theory of foreign trade, creating a new conceptional basis for determining which option, free trade or protection, is appropriate for foreign trade policy.

Lüder Gerken Seit 1991 Direktor des Walter Eucken Instituts in Freiburg.
